STUART — Imagine an old-fashioned Christmas Holiday at the beach.

Join the House of Refuge Museum at Gilbert's Bar, Sunday, Dec. 9, from 1 to 3:30 p.m., for its annual Holiday Open House.

The Open House is sponsored by the Allamanda Circle of the Garden Club of Stuart and UF/IFAS Extension Martin County Master Gardeners who decorate the museum and grounds reflecting Christmas in the early 1900s.

Indulge in fresh baked goods and hot apple cider.

Master Gardener Ann McCormick will be presenting a lecture on Native Plants.
